Conditions Are Most Encouraging In Town Now

Industries Showing Signs of Activity at Present

Employment conditions are showing a big improvement in town during the past few weeks. The Dominion Glass plant, which has been the back bone of the town for the past few years, is still going strong with most encouraging prospects for even greater activities in the near future. The coal mine at the Gunderson Brick and Coal plant has also been the centre of activities during the winter and is still furnishing employment to its full complement of employees.

Two weeks ago the Pressed Brick plant commenced operations after being closed all winter, and this week the Gunderson Brick Plant opened up with a full staff of brick makers and shale miners. Arrangements are now under way to commence making brick at the Premier Brick Plant and it is expected that this plant will also be in operation in the very near future.

At the Pottery Plant conditions have greatly improved during the past few weeks. Owing to the increasing demand for the excellent class of goods made at this plant several additional hands have been added to the staff recently and prospects are bright for further additions to the staff shortly. Increasing demands and better prices for the products of the Greenhouses are most encouraging and augur a bright future for expansion and further development in this line.

On the whole, conditions are most encouraging here for renewed activities and a return to better times. For the moment, practically all the unemployed will be absorbed and the silver lining is showing up nicely on the horizon.

FAIL TO AGREE

ON WHEAT PRICES

Two days of close discussion failed to bring any agreement in the world wheat conference on a specific plan for raising the price of wheat. The conference was held at Rome. The delegates were agreed on the principle of raising the export price, it was announced, but they remained as far as ever from agreement as to how to bring this about, after long discussion on four main schemes.

Redcliff Reminiscences

Taken From The Review File of April 16, 1915

At the Annual Easter meeting of St. Ambrose Church held on Thursday April 12th, Mr. Harbut presented the balance sheet of the finances of the church, showed that the church was entirely free from debt and that the general and stipend account showed a small balance on the right side. The election of officers resulted as follows: Vicar's Warden—J. Chadwick. People's Warden—H. E. Howard, Vestrymen—J. Chesterman, W. Foreman, J. Harbert, R. E. Howard, P. McQueen, A. Wade, G. E. At the Council meeting on Monday evening, letters were read from three different financial firms asking for particulars regarding the debentures the town has for sale at present.

Hicks' Geists' Furnishing Store is being renovated and put into shape for an ice cream parlor and confectionery store.

The Redcliff Lodge No. 90 I. O. O. F. is giving a dance in Reid's Hall on April 26 to celebrate the 98th anniversary of the Order.

Farewell Social for Mr. and Mrs. Stewart

Both are Presented with Gifts By The Congregation

A large attendance of St. Ambrose members assembled in the Parish Hall last Friday evening at a farewell gathering for Mr. and Mrs. Stewart who were leaving the following Monday for their new home in Kamuskash, Saskatchewan.

On behalf of the congregation Mr. W. Hill presented Mr. Stewart with a purse, and Mrs. H. J. Cox presented Mrs. Stewart with a set of table linen from the W. A.

Rev. Mr. Butcher, of Medicine Hat, was present and addressed the gathering. While he regretted losing Mr. Stewart from the diocese, he congratulated the guest of the evening on his advancement to the rectory of his new charge in which he will have nine vicars under him. Owing to the absence of the Bishop, Mr. Butcher was unable to announce Mr. Stewart's successor here, but said that he, the speaker, would be in charge of this field in the meantime, and asked that the members of St. Ambrose keep him informed on any matters requiring his services. An encouraging note was sounded by Mr. Butcher when he announced that the attendance at St. Ambrose for the Lenten and Easter services was the largest in years. In accepting the gifts Mr. Stewart was visibly affected and referred in feeling terms to the many kindnesses shown to him and Mrs. Stewart during their sojourn here. After the presentations luncheon was served and the evening was closed with a social hour mingled with pleasure and regrets.

Don't forget the I. O. O. F. Dance on May 24th. The prizes may be seen in J. J. Moore's window, Medicine Hat.

Now that our streets are in good condition, the by-law regarding riding bicycles on the sidewalks will be strictly enforced. J. Kitchen, CON.

JUST FOR FUN

The average man is proof enough that a woman can take a joke.

A young lady, when asked if she played golf, replied: "Oh dear, no. I don't even know how to hold the caddy."

College bred refers to something which requires a fearful amount of dough, is seldom self raising and usually proves to be nothing more or less than a four-year-loaf. H. C. Witwer.

The trouble with public opinion is that so many people only express it privately.

Benediction for almost any family circle: God bless our scrappy home.

Secure Building For Physical Training Here

Allow Use of Old Broadway Store For Gymnasium.

Very little business of importance was done at the council meeting last Monday evening. Mayor Cox was in the Chair and Councillors Broughton, Dryden, Sangster and Sanderson present.

Council set the price on the Young building on Third Street opposite the school at $250.00 cash.

Mr. Towle's offer of $15.00 for a shack on First Street, was not accepted.

Messrs. Cooke, Anderson and Jorgensen waited on Council and asked for permission to use the old Broadway store building for a physical training centre. Their request was granted.

A letter was read from the Utilities Commission approving the estimates as passed by Council. The usual accounts were approved for payment.

THIS SURE FITS SOME OF OUR LOCAL STORES

We clipped the following from an exchange: "A farmer who was carrying a parcel from a city mail order house was accosted by a local merchant: 'Why don't you buy those goods from me?' 'I would have saved the express, and besides you would have been patronizing a home store, which helps pay the taxes and build up this locality.' With characteristic frankness the farmer asked 'Why don't you patronize our home paper and advertise it?' 'I read it, and didn't know you had the goods I have here. Nor do I ever see your name in the paper inviting anyone to come to your store.'"

BILL TO REGULATE WHEAT GRADING

A bill to amend the Canada Grain Act, brought into the House of Commons by Hon. H. E. Stevens, minister of trade and commerce, would give the government authority to order special grading of Garnet wheat. This has been a contentious subject in parliament for several sessions.

Under the present regulations governing wheat grading Garnet cannot be put into No. 1 Hard or No. 1 Northern grades but is admitted into No. 2 Northern and all grades below that.

The amendment now proposes that only wheat of the milling quality equal to Marquis shall be graded as No. 1 or No. 2 Northern. This would exclude Garnet but would admit Reward another early ripening wheat.

The Review regrets a mistake made in E. T. Cooke's Adv. last week when we had Blue Ribbon Tea priced at 40c a pound instead of 40c. Fortunately Mr. Cooke's customers know there must be some mistake as his prices are always as low as the lowest.

March Coming To Monarch Theatre

Frederic March plays, what he considers, the second outstanding screen role of his brilliant film career in "Death Takes a Holiday," the Paramount picture directed by Mitchell Leisen, which comes Monday to the Monarch Theatre. March ranks only his memorable performance in "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" with this, his latest part.

Rev. Stewart Bids Farewell to His Parishoners

St. Ambrose Was Well Filled For The Occasion

St. Ambrose Church was taxed to capacity last Sunday evening to accommodate the large congregation which turned out to hear Rev. P. M. Stewart in his farewell message before leaving for his new field.

Taking his text from St. John 20 and 31 as a base for summing up his four years' ministry here Mr. Stewart gave a most impressive and feeling address. Referring to the unfortunate world conditions during his sojourn here, Mr. Stewart praised the courageous manner in which the members of his congregation had faced these adversities, as a result of which they had been permitted to come together regularly for prayer and worship.

Selfishness, individual and collective, national and international, said the speaker, was at the root of the depression and unless we turn our thoughts and actions into harmony with the will of God and the teaching of Jesus Christ, the collapse of our present civilization is inevitable. So long as a system is based on personal gain, so long must we expect to suffer the consequences. If we benefit from the depression as we should it will have been a blessing.

Mr. Stewart expressed a deep and abiding gratitude for the many kindnesses shown him and his family by the congregation during their stay here and for the help and encouragement they had been to him in his work. He expressed the hope that he had done them even a portion of as much good as they had done him. His prayer for them would be that the Holy Spirit of God would be in their hearts and His name glorified in all their lives.

Mr. Stewart closed by giving his hearers a motto from Virgil: "Yield not to fate or misfortune but go forward believing."

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart and Joan left early Monday morning by car for Kamuskash, Sask.

"Fresh from the Garden"

An Exhibition Of Childhood

London is to witness a most unique exhibition when, on April 19, will open a display of relics of "Children through the Ages," acclaimed as the most comprehensive portrayal of child life down the centuries ever presented to the public. The event derives significance as much from the historic value of the various exhibits, as from the purpose to which the proceeds are to be devoted. The beneficiary will be one of London's most deserving charities.

The relics to be displayed link child life with the dim remote ages of the past, the oldest exhibit being a Chinese doll said to date from 600 B.C. From that far distance down the years, the varying fashions of children, the toys which brought them pleasure, the garments they wore, the furniture which decked their nurseries and playrooms, all will be traceable in the array of exhibits from the pre-Christian era down to the end of the reign of Queen Victoria.

Queen Elizabeth's christening robe, her cap and mittens, a portrait of her as a baby (by Holbein), will be on show. A shirt worn by Charles I as a child, two, his boyhood's broadsword, will find prominent place in the display beside Oliver Cromwell's christening robe. Here then that historic entity which ended so tragically the monarch is made to symbolize the transitory nature of human passions and, transformed, serves the charitable purposes of to-day. Napoleon, too, will be represented, not in a manifestation of childish desire but rather in evidence of that other love which great and lowly have in common, and which is of course, as old as childhood is. The present given by the Emperor Napoleon to his infant son, the King of Rome, has been obtained as an exhibit.

Perambulators and cradles and such adjuncts of childhood that flourished in the seventeenth century have been collected to augment the display. Children's furniture from the sixteenth to the nineteenth centuries will be shown, as well as a display of British and foreign children's clothes, hats, shoes and gloves of the same period, early games, cards and jigs, the puzzles, playbooks and lesson books. A series of rooms is being arranged to depict child scenes of bygone days with inevitable wax figures in the Madame Tussaud tradition. There will be portrayed in similar fashion a Kate Greenaway scene, a Victorian Sunday, the ancient nannies and the modern nurses.

The British royal family, as usual where charity is the object, is according wholesale support to the exhibition. Queen Mary is contributing playthings of her own childhood, and toys which enthrall the young Prince of Wales, his brothers and sisters. Two gold rattles given by Queen Victoria to the Prince of Wales also have been offered, and considerable interest will attach to an exhibit of the immature efforts of the Prince and his brother, the Duke of York, as artists. It is said these efforts are just as atrocious in result and effect as any of his exalted youth.

Perhaps one of the most interesting of the relics to be exhibited, however, has no connection whatever with the childhood of the great or the near-great. It is a pewter feeding bottle, believed to date back to about 1700. It was discovered in possession of a farmer who was using it to feed his lambs. Probably no more fitting place could be found for this memento of a bygone period and a long-forgotten childhood than alongside the relics of royal youth and palace playrooms. It is a striking reminder of that strange democracy of the very young, that constant symbol of the "great leveller"—childhood and death—and it is to be hoped that as such, in these transitional days, it will be interpreted by those privileged to patronize the exhibition.

There is, a timely moral lesson, too, in the story recently told by one of the better known financial journals. It happened that a habited dandy, ostensibly poor, elderly woman entered the classic portals of a large up-town bank in New York, and took the uniform guard she desired to open an account. She was shown to the new account department where three officers of the bank were more intent upon the approaching lunch hour than upon new business, particularly business which came in such insusceptible garb. As it happened, lunch was, and the woman was left to the manager.

After stating her mission, the old lady asked to see a statement of the bank's financial position, much to the surprise of the manager who was accustomed to having the financial status taken down by the bank's clerks, particularly by small depositors. However, he presented the requested statement, answered courteously some startlingly intelligent and pertinent questions, which satisfactorily revived, brought the indignation the lady wished to open an account. She gave her name and other necessary information, and, casually, for he expected a small initial sum, he asked: "How much do you wish to deposit?"

"Twenty-one thousand dollars," replied the old lady, equally casually, as he proceeded to count out the money in bills of various denominations.

Strange Accidents At Sea

Others Give Accounts Of Two Vessels Colliding
Recalling strange accidents at sea, officers of the steamer Beauchamp, at Saint John, gave first-hand accounts of two unusual collisions.

Chief Engineer David Thomson was with the Vancouver when that ship carried troops across the English Channel in war days. "Traveling without lights, troop-carriers proceeded at full speed over courses ordered clear by the admiralty, a stocky trawler returning from the banks had not heard the warning and unwittingly crossed the troopship's track."

"It was the first time an iron ship was cut in two," said Thomson. "We struck the big trawler, broadsides, plowed right through the hull and out the other side. From the port I got a fleeting glimpse of the stern half sinking."

Only five of the crew of 39 were rescued, and one died soon after. "The confused survivors would not believe it. They couldn't understand why we had not foundered also."

During the war, said Thomson, he was with the Montmark, a famous German ship. Capt. Mason told how the ship was sunk by a British submarine. During the war, met a strange end while under his command in 1919. A wreck occurred while the Montmark was feeling its way through fog visibility one night a few days out from the Tynm mouth. Capt. Mason saw the bow of another ship protruding into his own, heard terse orders in a foreign language, and watched the unknown vessel break up into the sea.

The Montmark sinking, the crew jumped into the sea. Capt. Mason saw a few men were rescued from the life raft following evening, but other members of the crew were never found and the ship which left them helpless was never identified.

Progress For Persia

Mechanization Of Old Handicraft Industries Looks Like Mistake

And now the Shah of Persia has evolved a five-year plan! Progress is to be made, through the mechanization of the ancient handicraft industries that have created so many delights for collectors. Great carpet and rug factories will be their homes where patent makers have labored after the centuries.

One will be the feature that made oriental rug collecting a delight to those with incomes permitting. No longer will variations in color tell of the exhaustion of some native dye mixture, or irregularities in pattern betray the advent of a new native weaver. The innovations that began with analysis dyes and chemical washes will reach their climax in a uniformity that makes the best American "orientals."

Indeed, progress in Persia may mean no progress at all. Who will tell the Shah that the Persian carpet is not a whit from the mechanized product of the continent?

What Motorists Pay In Taxes

Automobiles Contribute More Than 27 Per Cent To Tax Revenue

More than 27 per cent of the total revenue collected by the governments of the different provinces of Canada is contributed by owners of automobiles in the form of taxes on gasoline and license fees. This information is disclosed in a report just issued by the Canadian government bureau of statistics.

The report states that the total amount paid by automobile owners to the provincial treasuries in the fiscal year 1932-33 was $45,499,530, which gasoline taxes accounted for $24,848,280 and $20,651,250 was in license fees.

In the province of Ontario 35.9 per cent of the total government revenue is paid by motorists; in Quebec, 32 per cent; in Nova Scotia, 27.2 per cent; in New Brunswick, 27.2 per cent; in Alberta, 24.1 per cent; in Prince Edward Island, 22.7 per cent; in Saskatchewan, 18.8 per cent; in British Columbia, 17 per cent; and in Manitoba, 15.45 per cent.

Restricting Rubber Supply

Britain And Holland May Find It Difficult To Obtain

W. L. Clark, writing in the Brooklyn Times Star says: "With Great Britain and Holland controlling 95 per cent of the world production of rubber and the United States consuming 50 per cent of the output, conversations are being held between the British and Dutch with a view to restricting the supply."

In 1928 the British tried the Stevenson restriction plan which curbed exports of rubber as well as actual production. The world price of crude rubber went up from 16 cents to $1.50 per pound. Then the Dutch producers stepped up and ruined the British scheme. The price sagged. It is now between 9 and 10 cents per pound.

Just now the Dutch are dicker with the native producers in the Dutch East Indies. Although the natives do not contribute much to the total supply, it is sufficient to knock the props from under any restriction scheme of the British and Dutch. In the meantime the United States is making the right to take part in the discussion as the chief rubber consumer.

The way the rubber restriction plan can be used so simply prompts the thought that Soviet Russia, if actually make any wheat agreement between the other nations look pretty sick."

Motor License Reviews

Alberta Government Does Not Favor Extending License Year To April 1st

Revenue from Alberta motor licenses amounts to $600,000 for January and February of this year. Premier Brownlee stated in the legislature in showing that this is an important source of provincial receipts at the year's opening.

At the time, the premier was dealing with the government's firm opposition to according to the largely signed petition from the Alberta Motor Association asking that the license year be extended from January 1 to April 1.

Formation of a moving picture censor board for the prairie provinces may be considered shortly, according to information given by the legislature by Mr. Brownlee. Estimates for the censor board in the province were under discussion. The amount passed was $8,900, an increase of $20 over last year.

Gifts Exchanged

Prince George And Arctian Chief Exchange Gifts

Prince George and Chief Tlekeod of the Hamangwut tribe, whose relationship a year ago aroused international attention, were the central figures in a cordial gathering as the king's youngest son opened his tour of the north and the Rhineland. The native chieftain, sent from his territories for digging a white man and subsequently reinstated by King George, warmly welcomed the prince of the tribe's loyalty to the throne, and presented him with a magnificent set of skin.

The prince shook hands and in turn presented the chief with a walking stick. Subsequently Prince George shook hands with Tlekeod's mother, Queen Simane, whose dramatic appeal to the king on her son's suspension brought about his reinstatement.

Suggestion Is Made That A Visit To Canada Should Be Undertaken

A suggestion was made in the British House of Commons that the United Kingdom send to Canada a detachment of flights of airplanes to "show the flag" in the Dominion. The planes would be sent aboard a naval aircraft carrier. Discussion of the proposal arose during the debate on the air estimates when Oliver B. Simmonds, Dufferin Conservative and aircraft manufacturer, told the house Canada had never seen a squadron of British planes, although every year squadrons of machines from the United States made exhibition flights to Canadian air pageants. Mr. Simmonds said he was in Ottawa early this year and heard how expressed that the Royal Air Force would "show the flag" in Canada. He asked that the air ministry consider the matter.

Sir Philip Sassoon, minister for air, replied that the suggestion at "very interesting."

Passenger Train Pooling

Expected To Effect Big Savings Under Arrangement

The passenger train pooling arrangement for the Montreal-Toronto-Ottawa-Toronto and Montreal-Quebec services, as extended and effective from March 31, will produce a total saving of approximately 1,000,000 train miles per annum, compared about evenly between the C.N.R. and C.P.R. and on the basis of a conservative estimate will represent a saving to each company of approximately $500,000 per annum. The information was given in the House of Commons by Hon. R. J. Manion, minister of railways and canals, based on a telegram from Chairman C. F. Fullerton, of the C.N.R. board of trustees.

Has Plan For Laying Foundation Of New Municipalities In The West On A Village System

Noting the recent proposal of a British settlement company to locate thousands of families on ungranted land in Canada within the next few years, James H. Ramage, farmer at Crestwood, B.C., outlines a plan for laying the foundation of new municipalities on a village system.

"Under the present arrangement municipal offices, churches, schools and other social conveniences are widely scattered," Mr. Ramage pointed out. "My idea is to have a main street through the centre of every township, extending if necessary or possible throughout the length of the province.

The advantage is in having such utilities as roads, electric power lines, telephone systems, water works and other public services joined together in the most useful and economical manner," continued Mr. Ramage.

"The main street would do away with the necessity of further expensive railway development, since it would become an all-season transportation artery used by automobiles, trucks, and even horse-drawn buses," explained Mr. Ramage. "As the farms are situated near the farmer, in most cases, is several miles from a highway of any kind and seldom is he on a direct route to his shipping point on the railroad. The highway system is so diversified in direction and development is slow. There are too many roads and not enough good ones."

"The farm houses would all face the 'main street,' it is pointed out. Where about 75 families occupy a settled township there could be 400 or more, Mr. Ramage thinks. Saskatchewan with 3,700 townships could support 3,000 persons per township and have a population of 11,000,000. Alberta, Manitoba and the Peace River district in the Northwest Territories could support correspondingly large populations, said Mr. Ramage.

"The 23,040 acres in a township would be divided up as follows: Forestry work, 150 acres; garden, 120 acres; buildings, 120 acres; shelter belts of trees, 1,000; farming, 21,000 acres. This distribution would reduce the wheat acreage as suggested by Premier Bennett and others," said Mr. Ramage.

Means Hard Work

No Short Cut To Anything That Is Worth While

What is needed today is not new things, but true things. It is an old world. There is no change in happiness and progress in the world, just for the bringing out. It means hard work, not big talk. It is the old truth, the new truth, the everlasting truth, that there are no shortcuts to things worth while. Those who foolishly imagine that they have some new way to change the world, or the part of the world they adorn, are simply selling themselves false thoughts by high-pressure hypnotism. The world continues to make progress by better things, not in new ways, or by loud mouthings, but quietly and surely through effort and thought and labor.

Going Ahead With Work

Reclamation Project Of Dutch Government Involves Huge Sum

In parliament the minister of waterways announced that the government intended to proceed with the Zeeland reclamation scheme despite the great cost entailed, many million guilders.

Up to January 1, this year, 200,000 guilders had been spent.

On the other hand, it is estimated that the reclamation will give work to 2,000 laborers for ten years, which fact alone in view of the unemployment situation, the government deems sufficient reason for its continuance.

Interesting News Bulletin

Souvenir Of 1881 Event Printed On

"Tree With Charcoal"

The first news bulletin in the Rocky Mountains has found its way into the hands of the "printer's" daughter, Mrs. R. A. Choate of Vancouver, who has forwarded it to her father in England, more than 20 years after it went to press.

Printed with charcoal on a Douglas fir, the bulletin can still be read: "July 13, 1881-Tregent cut his foot. Major nearly drowned. Both doing well."

The "bulletin publisher" was A. E. Tregent, now resident of Guildford, Surrey, England. He and Tom Wilson of Banff, who cut down and preserved the bulletin in 1901, are the last two remaining members of the Canadian Pacific Railway pathfinders of 1881.

The record on the log refers to an accident which befell Tregent a few miles west of Banff and as a result of which he was left on the trail to recover from a badly lacerated foot.

Major A. B. Rogers, leader of the pathfinders, in crossing Bath Creek, afterwards named for the incident, from the Bow River to the Great Divide, was swept away on his pony and only Tom Wilson's quick action saved his life.

The Hog Marketing Outlook

Highly Favorable Canadian Export Prospects

The consumption of pig products in Canada during 1932 reached the highest point in the history of the industry at 91.7 pounds per capita. This statement appears in the Agricultural Situation bulletin just issued by the department of agriculture at Ottawa, in which the following summary of the hog situation appears.

"Briefly summarizing the situation, it would appear that the hog outlook is favorable to the producer. While it is likely that there will be some temporary price declines during the present year, the trend is upward. Market supply prospects are for a moderate volume during the first half of the year, followed by a fairly substantial increase. At market prices such as noted during the early part of the year, there should be greater interest in the purchasing of feed grains and a falling off in the volume of unfinished pigs offered. Prospects for export appear to be satisfactory, and the restrictions existing on exports from foreign countries selling to the British market are working quite favorably toward stabilization of prices. Despite the present favorable export outlook, improvement in feeding, feeding, selection and pack so as to secure a large per centage top grades of bacon is much more desirable than a marked increase in general production.

It is quite safe to forecast a substantial improvement in the quality of the 1934 production, as in any previous period in the history of the industry in Canada. This is highly favorable to Canadian export prospects."

Soviet Russia's was a private enterprise is driving the colorful sleighs, or sleigh drivers, out of its midst. This winter only a few are to be found in Moscow, where once they were the popular transportation guides of gay parties who took midnight rides to dance halls and night clubs. The gay parties are gone and the sleigh drivers and their horses are pitiful reminders of the olden days. It is planned to replace them with municipal taxis, but so far there are only 500 cabs for the 2,500,000 residents of Moscow and those who wish to ride must use the crowded street cars.

Britain Has Specimens Of Every Living Insect On Earth

The building of a permanent home in South Kensington for one of the most precious scientific possessions of the Empire is about to be begun. Mence Of Low Grade Seed

Growers Taught The Value Of Producing Only High Grade Product

Low grade seed is a menace to the reputation of Canada in the export markets and a drag in the domestic market. The marketing of seeds in Canada in the last three or four years has been attended by serious difficulties and comparatively low prices to growers, but has at least led to the export of a high grade product. No 1 seed has almost always sold at a profitable price, while low grade seed has been unsalable or sold at a loss to the grower. It should be the practice of every grower, advises "The Agricultural Situation" bulletin, to save seed only from clean fields, so that it may be cleaned to grade No. 1.

Curing Pork

Important facts to remember in curing pork and other meats are the meats which are allowed to freeze on the surface before the animal meat has escaped from the interior will not have as pleasant a flavor as they would have if cooled gradually. Meat ceases to take salt when the temperature falls below 30 degrees Fahrenheit. Dry curing must therefore be carried on in a room, the temperature of which does not long remain below 36 degrees.

THE LITTLE THEATRE

On Friday evening of next week, April 20th, the local Little League Association will put on their final entertainment for this season. The program will be made up of three one-act plays, all of which promise to be well staged and provide a good evening's entertainment.

As the Little Theatre Association is a Community enterprise in which a number of our citizens, both young and old, are interested, it is hoped that if for no other reason the final entertainment will be well patronized.

But there are other reasons. This season the Association went to considerable expense in fixing up a play-house suitable for this class of entertainment and furnishing comfortable accommodation for the spectators. At present the Little Theatre quarters here are a credit to the enterprise of Association officers and are superior to many other such premises in much larger centres.

Unfortunately the expense in connection with putting the building in its proper shape has not been covered by the proceeds from the entertainments held so far. However as the deficit is not very big a packed house on April 20th will put the Association on Easy Street and in splendid shape to commence next season's operations.

Since the Little Theatre movement is Dominion wide and is now becoming quite popular under the patronage and support of His Excellency, The Governor General, it is only fitting that Redcliff, with its very creditable showing of talent, should be interested in it.

With a balanced ledger at the close of this season—now that all the initial work has been done—the local association will be able to enter into next season's activities under most promising circumstances and be in good shape to plan for entering the provincial contest. A packed house on April 20th will make this possible.

Ticket sellers will be calling on you this week. Remember every ticket holder has a chance of winning one of several prizes which will be drawn for during the evening of the show.

This is a community affair so let all turn out and boost for it.

REASONS WHY WE SHOULD BUY AT HOME

Because our interests are here.

Because the community that is good enough to live in is good enough to buy in.

Because we believe in transacting business with our friends.

Because we want to see the goods we are buying.

Because we want to get what we buy when we pay for it.

Because some part of every dollar we spend at home stays at home and helps work for the welfare of our home town.

Because the home man we buy from stands back of the goods, thus always giving value received.

Because the man we buy from pays his share of the taxes.

Because the man we buy from helps to support our poor and needy, our schools, our churches and our homes.

Because when luck, misfortune or bereavement comes, the man we buy from is here with his kindly expressions of greeting, his words of cheer, and, if need be, his pocketbook.

"The Cat and The Fiddle at Monarch"

After almost half a year of production, "The Cat and the Fiddle" comes to the screen of the Monarch Theatre starting Thursday as one of the most promising offerings of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio for the current show season.

Ramon Novarro and Jeanette MacDonald are the co-stars. Each is not only a romantic favorite but an accomplished singer. They are teamed for the first time in this production but their success has been so instantaneous and outstanding that M-G-M is now reported to be seeking a new vehicle in which they may appear together.

"The Cat and the Fiddle" was adapted to the screen from the successful stage play by Jerome Kern and Otto Harbach. It had a long run in New York and has been presented in other large cities throughout the country. It is a romantic musical drama and includes such hit song numbers as "The Night Was Made for Love," "She Didn't Say Yes," "Try to Forget," "One Moment Alone," "A New Love is Old," and "The Love Parad."

Lavish production went into the making of the picture, as is evidenced by the fact that it was almost six months in the making.

Great Reindeer Trek Held Back At Mackenzie River

Thruvald is in an attempt to cross the mighty Mackenzie river, Canada's moving reindeer herd will have to spend another winter south of their destined "permanent" home. Word has been received by Hon. T. O. Murphy, minister of the interior, of the difficulties encountered by the heavy band of reindeer herders, engaged in the year-long task of moving the animals from the western shores of Alaska to an area in the Northwest Territories where they will provide food and clothing for Canadian Eskimos.

Purchased from Indians in Alaska, some years ago, the herd was started on its long trek. Each summer the progress was interrupted for the breeding season and the animals were allowed to rest until the young calves grew strong enough to travel. The object this winter was the crossing of the Mackenzie river from the summering grounds south and east of Alakiv, famed as the centre of the dramatic chase for the mad trapper, Ivan Johnson, two years ago, and as a stopping point in Col. Charles Lindbergh's flight to the Orient by way of Northern Canada.

The Mackenzie river is 70 miles wide and the herders planned to cross on ice. Little barren islands dot the wide sweep of the river, but afford no winter fodder for the animals. So it was planned to make the crossing in a rush, driving the reindeer night and day until the winter shore was reached where they would find food and rest.

This year, however, the Arctic rim of Canada was assailed by high winds and unusually early blizzards. When Andrew Bahr, captain of the herders, edged his charges out over the ice, he found wide stretches of ice swept bare of snow and as the reindeer could not travel on glaciers, long detours from the planned route had to be made.

More ill-luck came in the form of a heavy blizzard after they had been 48 hours out on the ice, and in the midst of it the deer stampeded and began a dash back along their trail towards their summer grazing grounds near Shingine Point.

Bahr could only round up the stragglers and abandon the attempt to cross for this winter. Next year, when the river freezes over, another route, believed to be more feasible, will be mapped out and another attempt made to deliver the animals to their permanent range of 15,000 square miles on the east side of the Mackenzie delta.

Anticipating the arrival of the herd this year, a representative of the interior department had gone from Alakiv to prepare grazing grounds, make preparations for receiving the herd, and its drivers. When the animals did not arrive, he made inquiries and learned the cause of difficulty. He then notified the department.

A Valuable Industry

Canada's 1932 Fish Catch Had Marketed Value of $35,957,000. The herring is the chief Canadian fish so far as quantity caught is concerned, leading all others in 1932 with 1,662,373 cwt, but it ranked only fourth in marketed value at $14,772,368. Salmon led in value with 1,231,054 cwt. at $8,637,364. Lobster with a comparatively low catch of 451,448 cwt. was second in value at $4,742,311. Cod with a catch of $4,428,941 cwt. was third in marketed value at $2,193,621. The marketed value of the total catch of fish in Canada in 1932 was $35,957,000 compared with $30,517,000 in 1931 and $21,841,000 in 1930. The net fisheries accounted for $21,763,000 of the 1932 total. — St. Thomas Times-Journal.

A Home-Made Trumpet

Out of a piece of gas pipe, some plumbing band, curtain rods and an old automobile horn, Herbert Allen, 17-year-old high school student of Seattle, made himself a trumpet. Herbert, who used another trumpet only for a short time, now is learning to play it. He said he ground the valves "just right" by "trying the pitch" on his violin, and then grinding the valves till they sounded the same.

TWO PARADES VASTLY DIFFERENT IN CHARACTER BUT STILL MILITARISTIC

These two photographs, one from London, the other from Berlin, reached Canada in the same mail. They are very interesting in view of the strenuous effort being made by the League of Nations Society to bring about world disarmament. Top, new recruits for the Eton O.T.C., Eton College, Windsor, England, with their rifles on their shoulders, arrive for the first parade. Below, German troops haven't forgotten the goose-step as they stride past the National Memorial in Berlin in honor of the German war dead on National Heroes Memorial Day.

Some time late last Saturday night or early Sunday morning some night prowlers broke into the local Legion Club wine cellar and helped themselves to a few cases of bottled neck oil. So far there are no clues as to who the culprits may be.

IN-MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my dear husband and our father, Donald McLachlan, who passed away April 16th 1933.

One sad and lonely year has passed.

Since our great sorrow fell, The shock that we received 'till that day,

We still remember well, His smiling way and pleasant face

Are a pleasure to recall, He had a kindly word for each, And died beloved by all.

To bade no one a last farewell, He said goodbye to none; The heavenly gates were opened And a loving voice said "Come!"

Ever remembered by his Wife and Family.
